Sometimes it makes little sense the way there are inns scattered about in places far enough from civilization to warrant being something more. Gottshaw Village is an expansion on the Gottshaw Inn to address this problem for one such place. Now instead of just a sleepy little inn, there's a blacksmith and two homes. Gottshaw also plays host to a group of refugees from Kvatch who will decide to settle and build a home here. One of these refugees is looking for her husband. Will you help the poor dear or leave her hanging?

Hi there, You've done a great job. I'll definitely dig it and personally recommend to my friends.

This is a total overhaul of TES IV: Oblivion. The mod makes changes to just about everything in the game (except races). There are new NPC's and creatures, settings changes, leveled list changes and much, much more. If you ever played Oscuro's Oblivion Overhaul, you will love this mod. It's an updated, enhanced version of OOO, but it is customizable down to just about everything. The changes it makes are done through scripts, so very little is permanent. If you're looking for one more play-through of this game, you need this mod.
